1.6 Social Work Practicum – SWP-I

Orientation Programmes

Orientation Programmes are organized at the beginning of the first and the third semesters. The objective of the programme is to equip students with the nature of social work education, programme of academic instruction, concurrent field work, practice skills and fields of social work. For the MSW (Final) students the orientation programme is organized with the objective to sharpen the students' awareness and enhance to their practice skills.

. It is a planned program aimed at providing appropriate direction to professional learning. With a judicious mixture of lectures, interactive sessions, games, skill labs and field visits, this important event provides a platform for the beginners to get introduced to different fields, dimensions, values and skills of Social Work. Besides this, the program helps the new entrants to familiarize themselves with the department and the course and also to acquaint themselves with the administrative framework, teaching pedagogy and field work rules. Since the students commence their field work within a couple of weeks of the orientation programme, the transaction within this serves as a critical basis for their understanding and engagement in field work assignments.

Skill Laboratories during the orientation programme are planned in a way to help students acquire beginning skills of using the methods of community work and group work in underserved communities.

Skill Lab:

Skill labs are an integral part of the curriculum from the time that the students join the course till the time that they graduate. A minimum of four skill labs is organized in each semester which are aligned with the theory papers and the field work requirements. Skill labs are either facilitated by experts in the field or by faculty members. The themes for the skill labs include but are not limited to simulation games, role play, street play, PLA tools, Therapeutic Interventions in the Context of Groups, Tool Construction in Research, Data Analysis, Life Skills Programming, Interviewing Skills Rights Based Programming, Designing Advocacy Campaigns, Family Therapy, Therapeutic Interventions in Specific Situations such as Addiction, Counselling Children and Adolescents, Project Formulation. The theoretical input with respect to skill labs is transacted in the class room and the skill component is covered in the day long skill lab. The faculty supervisor supports the application of these skills in the field work.

For First Semester Skill Lab Activities :- Application Writing, Preparation of CV, Resume, Bio-data, Interview Skills.

Individual Conferences:

Supervision is a dynamic educational process involving the faculty supervisor, students, his/her peers and agency supervisor to develop knowledge, skills and attitude in accordance with the professional standards of social work practice. Supervision holds the key in the professional development of a social worker. Effective supervision requires clarity about their respective roles as supervisor and supervisee. Each student is placed with a faculty member who is referred to as faculty supervisor. Supervision is participatory process and the role of student is significant as he/she is expected to clearly identify her/his learning needs and take initiative to benefit fully from the supervisory process. Individual Conferences (IC), a critical tool of supervision, is arranged to facilitate interaction, sharing and feedback between supervisor and supervisee in a systematic, planned and confidential setting. ICs are supposed to be held every week during the assigned time. It provides a platform to discuss the issues and concerns arising out of field work. The supervisor is expected to facilitate the students to relate theory with practice, and monitor their progress in terms of accomplishment of field work tasks and objectives and improvement in quality of reporting. It provides the student an opportunity to reflect on their own strengths and weaknesses and work on them for the betterment. All students are mandatorily required to attend all such Supervisory conferences. Field work without IC is considered as unsupervised field work and stands a chance of being cancelled.

(Note:- There will be minimum 10 ICs to each semester. Keep the records of IC for each semester.)

The Responsibilities of the Faculty Supervisor :

- Making student comfortable with the field setting and its requirements
- Assisting the students to develop their thinking, attitude and behavior and action in relation to the values and ethics of the profession.
- Working out a work schedule in consonance with the field work objectives
- Enabling students in learning to relate theory with practice
- Sharing with students the evaluation criteria, performance indicators and other expectations in terms of recording, use of supervisory process, etc.
- Providing periodic feedback to students about their professional growth
- Maintaining regular contact with the placement agency and agency supervisor for monitoring purposes.

Group Conference

Group conference is a vital part of the field work training, as it enables the students to develop some of the basic skills to become an effective social work professional. It provides the students a rare opportunity to get exposure to a wide range of areas. Each student is supposed to assume the role of Chairperson, Paper Presenter and Rapporteur at least once in each Group Conference. It provides the student an opportunity to experience the process of presentation of a formal academic and practice oriented paper, to chair and moderate a formal discussion, to record the proceedings of discussion in a systematic, precise and formal manner, and to develop understanding of various settings and opportunities relevant to the field of Social Work. It is an evaluative component of Fieldwork.

Group conference is a mechanism to facilitate professional sharing among students and faculty supervisors. All students are expected to make a presentation in the group. They can select any issue from their field work setting and present it to the group for deliberation
